

ASSERT NEWBERRY PURCHASED SEAT IN U. S. SENATE

FORMAL CHARGE OF USING
"BARREL CAMPAIGN" METH-ODS LODGED AGAINST SENATOR

EXPENSES NOT REPORTED

Prosecuting Attorney Tells Jury That Thousands of Dollars Were Spent in Violation of Corrupt Practices Law

By United Press Leased Wire
Grand Rapids, Mich.—The government today charged Truman H. Newberry, Michigan, with buying a United States senatorship in a "barrel" campaign.

Special Attorney Frank C. Dailey, outlining his case at the opening of court here today, asserted that thousands of dollars were used in Newberry's campaign here were not accounted for.
He accused Newberry of spending more money than the law permits
by using indirect means of pushing his candidacy.

"Much of the Newberry money was spent on banquets, flowers, entertainments, liquor and in many instances
to pay personal debts," Dailey said.
"When Lieut. Governor Dickinson exposed the 'barrel campaign' before the primary election, there was a scurrying in the Newberry headquarters. County chairmen who had received $1,000, $1,200 and $2,000
were asked to file only $100, $150,
etc."

Dailey said the scheme to "purchase a United States senatorship" was planned by Newberry and his close personal friend, Frederick Cody, of New York. Cody, he said, was the agent of numerous large corporations. Cody, Dailey charged, was to hire a campaign manager.

Jay Hayden, Washington correspondent of the Detroit News was offered the job at $500 a month, Dailey said. Hayden rejected the offer, advising Newberry not to run a barrel campaign, Dailey said.

The aid of the Marx-Oakman political machine in Detroit was sought,
according to the statement, and Paul H. King was made manager of the campaign.

Over 500 newspapers benefited in the advertising campaign which followed, according to Dailey. Movie films were purchased, he said, and re-made to serve as Newberry propaganda. Dailey claimed Newberry used his rank as lieutenant commander in the making of films ostensibly to stimulate navy recruiting but really to advance his campaign for the senature.

"Hundreds of men were employed,
Dailey claimed to work in every class and particularly among soldiers and sailors. The cost of circularizing gold star mothers was omitted from Newberry's sworn statement of expenses,
the prosecutor alleged."

"Speakers from outside the state were brought here," Dailey told the jury. "Obviously they were to talk on farming matters. Really they were aiding Newberry."

"James W. Helms, a democrat, was urged to run for the senate on the democratic ticket. Testimony will show James Odell (Newberry worker) paid him $2,000 and later he was given $50 a week to help Newberry."

Financial records of the Newberry campaign committee are "kept in an unusual and extraordinary way," Dailey stated.

He told of huge sums which were carried by campaign workers in tours
over the state.

Dailey declared the Newberry committee workers contributed large sums to church organizations and to church work in order to gain the influence of men connected with the churches.

A $50 bill was left in a book where one citizen could find it and $50 was given to a banker for his help, Dailey declared.

SPILKER READY TO MAKE GOOD PROMISE TO GIRL

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—Mrs. Perley Spiker of Baltimore and Guy Spiker, her husband's brother, arrived here today
ready to fulfill their offers of help
to Miss Emily Knowles and her baby, whom Perley Spiker said in an affidavit is his child.

Miss Knowles is held at Ellis Island with her baby by immigration authorities. She came to New York on money provided by the Spikers who declared in affidavits their desire to make amends for Miss Knowles' difficulties that grew out of her romance with Spiker in En-dland, where he was attached to the American aviation service.

Mrs. Spiker and her brother-in-law went to the office of their attorney,
who was to provide bonds for temporary entrance into this country of Miss Knowles. The bond was to be filed late today. Miss Knowles has recovered from a heavy cold that had threatened to develop into pneumonia.

Grey's Letter May Speed Up Treaty Action

Former British Ambassador to America Makes It Clear That Proposed Reservations to Treaty are Acceptable to England

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—The letter of Viscount Grey, former British ambassador here, to the London Times in which he said American reservations to the peace treaty were justified from an American point of view, was believed here today would hasten ratification.

Senators who favor reservations held that Grey's letter took the ground out from under those members who were against any reservations whatever, and who have said that the Allies would not accept them.

It was pointed out that Britain,
the principal associate of the United States in the war, expressed through Grey a willingness to accept many of the reservations which have been proposed. His attitude, and the fact that he even went so far as to argue in favor of certain American reservations, is expected to strengthen the stand of senators who favor quick ratification on a compromise basis,
even if practically all of the Lodge
reservations have to be accepted.

Senators today were watching closely for some sign of what the White House thinks about the British attitude. President Wilson's stand all along has been that he could not accept changes in the treaty or the league of nations covenant because he had signed the original documents, thus promising the Allies that they would be accepted by the United States.

Grey's letter, it was believed, gives the president an excellent opportunity to change this position, if he so desires. In fact, some senators thought Grey had almost invited him to do so.

The former ambassador's letter represents the official policy of Great Britain toward American ratification
it is understood here.

While in Washington he consulted with many senators and "sized up"
the situation at first hand, went home and reported to his government and shortly thereafter wrote his letter to the London Times.

ACCUSE RHINELANDER WOMAN OF SLAYING SON

APPLICATION FOR DEATH CER-TIFICATE RESULTS IN IN-VESTIGATION AND ARREST

By United Press Leased Wire
Rhineland, Wis.—Mrs. Stanley
Blomski, Sugar Camp, was arraigned here late today on a charge of murdering her own son, Alban,
aged 6, who, a post mortem disclosed, met death by violence. She pleaded not guilty and was held without bail until a lawyer can be appointed to defend her. The woman does not speak English. In the meantime arrangements are being made in the county jail for arrival of another child.

When the husband of the woman
applied for a death certificate, Coroner J. J. Nick ordered a post mortem. This revealed a broken arm, several bruises and lacerations.

When arrested, Mrs. Blomski
pleaded that the boy had tumbled down a stairway and struck some saw hanging along the stairs. Neighbors told county officials that Mrs.
Blomski had abused the child.

CHICAGO DOCTOR DIES IN MILWAUKEE HOTEL

By United Press Leased Wire
Milwaukee.—Dr. Arthur F. Schulz,
Chicago, was found dead in the Plankinton hotel here late Sunday.
The cause of death is to be determined at an inquest today. Some tablets, not yet analyzed were found near the bed.

Dr. Schulz is reported to have resided under the name of "John Murray." He retired early Saturday night. At 3 Sunday a long distance telephone call was received for the doctor from a person saying she was Mrs. Schulz and telling an alarming story.

TALK BY WIRELESS OSSINING TO CHICAGO

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—Wireless telephone conversations between Ossining, N. Y., and Chicago have been successfully carried on during the last 30 days, according to an announcement made by the De Forest laboratories of High Bridge,
a suburb.

The conversations were conducted with the use of a small aerial, a low wave length, and power of only one-third one kilowatt.

Experimental conversations were also held between Ossining and towns and cities of Indiana, Ohio, western New York and South Carolina.

CITY OF DENVER WINS SUIT AGAINST TELEPHONE COMPANY

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—The city of Denver,
in the supreme court today, won its suit against the state public utilities commission which sought to increase telephone rates here.

The court by dismissing an appeal for want of jurisdiction allowed decisions of the Colorado supreme court to stand, holding that the city utilities commission and not the state commission had the exclusive jurisdiction over telephone rates in the city.

APPLETON FIRM VICTIMIZED BY CLEVER FORGER

M'GAHN BROTHERS' NAME USED
BY FORMER VERMEULEN
BAKER IN EFFORT TO OBTAIN MONEY

OPERATIONS REACH $2,500

Forged Letter of Introduction and Represented Himself as Member of Appleton Firm—Fleece Sherman House of Chicago.

Checks to the amount of over $2, 500 which were forged in Chicago by Joseph Fischer, a baker formerly in the employ of Thomas Vermeulen's bakery, have just come to light in Appleton. They were apparently signed by the McGahn Bros., clothiers at 864 College avenue, and were drawn on the Outagamie County Bank. Payment was stopped on practically all of them.

Fischer had been employed at the bakery for about six weeks. He visited McGahn Bros. clothing store almost daily and was one of their best customers. He said he liked to trade there for the reason that they handled the make of goods that he had always been accustomed to wearing. His purchases amounted to nearly $100. He was as familiar with clothing and the wholesale houses with which they dealt as the proprietors themselves.

Fischer visited the store almost daily. He was given permission to write a letter on the typewriter and while doing so helped himself to a supply of letter heads and blank
checks on the Outagamie County bank. He had a typewriter in his room at J. H. Groff's residence on West College avenue, where he did practically all of his corresponding.
He became familiar with Thomas McGahn's signature which he closely imitated.

Letters of introduction were written to Wilson Bros., D. Conna Clothing company and Porti Hat company in which he introduced himself as Judge H. V. Martin, stating that he was a new partner of Mc-Gahn Bros. and would be in Chicago
in a day or two to purchase goods.
He left Appleton last Wednesday and passed the checks on the wholesale house during the following two days.

Fischer bought a bill of goods at each of the wholesale houses and presented a check for several times
the amount, receiving the difference in cash. The money was obtained on the strength of a letter of introduction supposedly signed by Thomas McGahn which stated that he had become a member of the firm. Some of the goods principally shirts he had shipped to the Appleton firm by express, the charges on which were over six dollars. The goods are now at the McGahn Bros. store.

One of the firms became suspicious of Judge Martin and wrote to the Appleton clothing store to learn if he was associated with them. The company wired back that it was acquainted with no such person and notified the Outagamie County bank to stop payment of any checks he might issue.
Fischer was suspected for the reason that he gave a letter to Thomas Mc-Gahn to mail which was addressed to Judge J. H. Martin, Hotel Sherman, Chicago, explaining that he was an intimate friend.

Fischer's operations in Chicago, so far as Mr. McGahn knows, are in excess of $2,500. He has been informed that he had fleeced the Sherman house of Chicago out of $1,000 on a northern land deal, but does not know whether the report is true. Detectives are on his trail and were less than an hour behind him or some of his deeds. Mr. McGahn was called to Chicago this morning on business connected with the forgeries.

The New York Life Insurance company is said to have been stung for $400. While still in Appleton Fischer applied for a position with the local representative of that company and after the matter was taken up with the state representative who came to Appleton, he was given the agency at Marquette. Just how he involved the company has not been announced and the chances are that the report contains no truth.

Fischer is well educated and speaks
English, French and Greek fluently.
He is well informed on many lines including clothing and rugs, and is an expert baker.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS ARE REGISTERED IN CHICAGO

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Earthquake shocks covering a period of more than two hours, the most violent in months,
were recorded on the government
seismograph at the University of Chicago early today.

The first shock was recorded at 5:42 a. m., becoming most intense at 7:40. The shocks were still continuing, tho in diminished violence, when the record sheet was changed at 8 a. m.

Observers were not able to determine the location.

carded.

Legal Red Tape Puts Obstacles In Way Of Knowles Girl's Marriage

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—Legal red tape today prevented the immediate marriage of Emily Knowles to Guy Spiker, brother of the man who is father of her child.

After Attorney Benjamin Kirchstein had arranged all details for the marriage, Byron H. Uhl, acting commissioner of immigration in charge at Ellis Island, where Miss Knowles is detained, called Kirchstein before him and notified
the lawyer he must see to it that the order of the immigration officials in Washington is carried out to the letter.

Uhl said that unless Kirchstein
would give his word that "no wedding would take place today between Guy Spiker and Emily Knowles" he would refuse to release Miss Knowles.

Uhl explained that the Washington order directed him to turn the English girl and her baby son Alfred over to Mrs. Kate Batters-
by in Fall River, Mass. Once Miss Knowles is in Mrs. Batters-by's care, Uhl said, his interest in the case ceases and Miss Knowles
may "do as she pleases" during the 90 days allowed by the department order.

Just before Uhl issued his ultimatum, Kirchstein had telephoned the marriage license clerk in New York asking that the office be kept open until after Miss Knowles
"releases" so she and Spiker could obtain a license.

The commissioner's order changed these plans.

"We'll obey the commissioner's request to the letter," Kirchstein stated.

Presumably Miss Knowles will be sent to Fall River and after
she has been turned over to Mrs.
Battersby the marriage will take place—if Mrs. Battersby is willing.

The release of the English girl
—whose strange war romance has interested the entire nation—was delayed by an immigration bureau
ruling preventing the acceptance of cash bond. When Kirchstein, accompanied by Mrs. M. Spiker and Guy Spiker, then arrived $1,000 in cash for the bond.

After Uhl explained the department rule, Guy Spiker returned to New York to obtain a $1,000 Liberty bond to post with the immigration commissioner.

SLIGHT DECREASE IN NUMBER OF FLU CASES IN NEW YORK

MORE THAN 2,700 DEATHS HAVE BEEN CAUSED BY THE FLU AND PNEUMONIA
IN GOTHAM

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—The number of influenza and pneumonia cases and number of deaths resulting from the diseases in New York yesterday decreased, according to the daily report of the health department.

There were 2,991 cases of influenza
with 101 deaths, and 665 pneumonia cases, with 120 deaths reported. There were 904 less cases of influenza than on Saturday and 146 fewer pneumonia cases. Deaths from the diseases were 19 and 17 less, respectively. Figures for the 1920 epidemic continue smaller than for the corresponding period
a year ago.

Granular total of cases and deaths for January shows:
Influenza 38,887, deaths 772.
Pneumonia 7,507, deaths 1,953.

Postponement of the threatened strike of apartment-house, hotel and office building firemen and engineers
until Wednesday will materially aid in the fight against the epidemic,
health officials declare.

WANTS CANADIAN WOOD AVAILABLE FOR U. S.

By United Press Leased Wire

questing President Wilson to name a orders in council which virtually prevent American lessees of crown lands in Canada from using timber for wood pulp to make news print.

WOMAN CARRIES BULLET IN BRAIN BUT WILL LIVE

By United Press Leased Wire
Minneapolis.—Mrs. Peter Johnson is carrying a bullet in a crevice of her brain today and yet she'll live, physicians say.

The bullet entered between her eyes and broke her nose yesterday,
when her 7 year old son dropped a rifle on the floor of their home at Parker's Lake and it was discharged.

An x-ray showed that had the bullet deflected a fraction of an inch upward, it would have killed Mrs. Johnson instantly. A fraction of an inch either to the right or left would have blinded her in one eye. The bullet cannot be removed for fear of killing her, and she will live anyway, according to D. F. L. Giles.

SELL SECOND GRADE FOOD TO REDUCE LIVING COSTS

By United Press Leased Wire
Milwaukee.—The high cost of living committee of the Citizenship Study Club today recommended daily sales
of "seconds" in foodstuffs.

The suggestion was inspired by charges, partially substantiated by investigation, that three tons of partially depreciated food was burned daily
at the city incinerator.

Resolutions adopted by the committee urge commission merchants and retail grocers to hold sales of "seconds" at certain hours of the day.

NEW YORK TO ALASKA AIR RAVE IS BEING PLANNED

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—Tentative plans have been made for a trans-continental air
race from New York to Nome, Alaska, 4,879 miles in 1920, according to an announcement of the New York Flying club. The club is co-operating with the army air service in arranging the flight. The route to be followed would be New York, L. I., to Milwaukee, N. D., at North Gate, N. D., entering Canada and flying across the dominion to Fort Ekbert, on the Alaskan boundary. In Alaska, the planes would fly from Fort Yukon to Fairbanks, to Nulato and Nome.

Britons Plead For Patience In Pact Fight

Grey's Letter Is Called Good Counsel While Mischief Makers are Fomenting Ill Will Between Two Great Nations

(By Webb Miller)
By United Press Leased Wire
London.—"Every good Briton will respond to the reasoned appeal of "Viscount Grey's letter on British-American relations, the Westminster Gazette today believed.

The Grey letter, in which the viscount pleaded for a more sympathetic attitude toward the United States in her fight over the peace treaty and her position toward foreign credits, aroused the wildest interest in all circles.

"When mischief makers are actively fomenting ill-will between Great Britain and the United States, Grey's letter comes with the arresting force of sage counsel," the Westminster Gazette continued.

Loyal Englishmen, the newspaper said, will exercise "patience and forbearance" and in "word and deed
abstain from any sort of petulant
comment on the American situation."

The Evening Standard, applauding Grey's efforts to help Britons understand the American position toward the peace treaty, pleaded for a "spirit of tolerance on both sides in an effort to understand each other's point of view."

TRIAL OF TEUTON WAR GUILTY IS EXPLAINED

ANSWER TO GERMAN NOTE RE-QUESTING MODERATION IS APPROVED—FRANCE
WANTS MORE COAL

By Henry Wood
By United Press Leased Wire
Paris.—The council of ambassadors today approved a draft of the Allied reply to the German note asking moderation in the terms of the peace treaty demanding surrender of German war guilty.

The Allies reply will point out, it was learned, that under the terms of the treaty trial of the Teuton war guilty by the Allies must be separate from any German trial.

Baron Kurt von Lersner, head of the German delegation here, will receive the Allied reply tomorrow, according to the council's plans.

At request of the French representative, who pointed out that Germany is more than one million tons of coal
a month behind in her coal deliveries to France, the council decided to ask Germany to speed up deliveries.

There now is more coal per capita in Germany than in France, it was claimed.

Hereafter the Belgian ambassador
will attend the council's meetings when matters of interest to Belgium
come up for discussion, it was learned.

POLAND WITHDRAWS PEACE PROPOSALS FROM RUSSIA

By United Press Leased Wire

submitted recently to Poland by soviet Russia have been withdrawn, according to unofficial advice to the

No reason for this was given, but it was thought that this might be further evidence that the bolsheviks intend to launch a spring offensive against Poland.

celestial phenomena from altitudes
above 30,000 feet will be effected un-

cording to an announcement made

Prof. Todd plans to create artificial eclipses of the sun by using a

HOME RULE FOR THE DALMATIANS IS NEW PLAN OF SETTLEMENT

LONG CONTROVERSY INVOLVING ADRIATIC DISTRICTS IS SLOW-LY APPROACHING AN END

By CAMILLO CIANFARRA
By United Press Leased Wire

Rome.—A new plan for settlement of the Dalmatian controversy, involving home rule for Dalmatia under Italian protection, has been advanced by radicals in the Adriatic districts, a dispatch to the Tempo from its Trieste correspondent today stated.

The correspondent said a report was current in Dalmatian circles that patriotic Dalmatians, in order not to embarrass the Italian government, would suggest the new plan for settlement of the Jugo-Slav-Italian con-trovercy to Premier Nitti.

The new plan, according to the correspondent, was considered by the "patriotic Dalmatians" as affording new proof to the world that Italian imperialism is a fable, and at the same time would show Jugo-Slavia that Italy is determined to avoid future friction.

Should the Jugo-Slavs ultimately reject the Nitti plan as advanced at Paris, the Italian government will insist upon enforcement of the pact of London, but simultaneously would give independence and home rule to Dalmatia under a republican form of government with a constitution guaranteeing rights of free development
for both Italian and Jugo-Slavic citizens in Dalmatia, according to the plan.

The Popola Romano said that the coming cabinet meeting will decide the course of action to be taken toward Fiume. The cabinet, according to the newspaper, believes the government has reached the limit of its patience in D'Annunzio's recent actions in capturing the steamer Taranto, carrying a large gold shipment and in arresting General Nitti.

The cabinet decided that "vigorous action is necessary" according to the newspaper.

An official communique announced that on January 27 a demonstration
hostile to Italy occurred at Spalato.
Several stores were looted and the headquarters of the local Italian society's reading club was wrecked.
Boarded the Italian ship Bosnia
in the harbor and lowered the Italian flag. There were no casualties.

The Jugo-Slav authorities immediately apologized to the Italian naval commander, the communique said, and promised to indemnify the victims and punish the leaders of the demonstration. The Belgrade government also sent a message of apology and assured the Italian leaders that the guilty would be punished.

A. Gmeiner of Waupaca visited friends in Appleton Sunday and later left for Joliet, Ill., on a business trip.

BLACK CREEK EQUITY PLANS CHAUTAUQUA

RURAL FOLK OF NEAR-BY TOWN WILL PRESENT PROGRAM IN THE NEAR FUTURE

Black Creek, Wis.—The Wisconsin
state union, American Society of Equity, will sponsor a three-day "chautauqua" program which will be offered by Equity locals or groups of locals
which offer a modest guarantee of expenses by the purchase of a required number of season tickets. An entertainment by professional vaudeville actors will be one of the offerings of the "farmer chautauqua."

Otto C. Rohm, president of the Outagamie county union, who was selected by the state board to head the committee which will put on the chautauqua, says the program has been worked out but that the speakers have not been selected.

Emphasis will be placed upon studies of the cost of production on the farm, and in this the Equity will have the co-operation of the state division of markets. Al C. Reis, legal advisor of the state marketing board, will also contribute to the lighter side of the program by an evening lecture on aviation in the war, which will be illustrated with lantern slides.

The chautauqua circuit will probably have two tents with outfits of platforms and seats at its disposal, but wherever possible will use country dances for holding its entertainments. The programs will be given in the country rather than in cities or villages.

Other members of the Equity's chautauqua committee are Mr. and Mrs.
Noyes Matheson, Clintonville, Mr.
and Mrs. J. Alex Rayburn, Dunn county, and Fred Hertzfeld, Ogdensburg.

NO IMMEDIATE DANGER
OF SUGAR FAMINE HERE
Rumors of a sugar shortage are again circulating in Appleton. Investigation among dealers, however,
shows that there is no immediate cause for alarm. A carload was received by a local jobber Friday, the distribution of which will give each grocer several sacks. A number of grocers are also receiving small amounts from Chicago, Green Bay and other points, and which, if carefully allocated, will take care of the immediate needs of this vicinity.

MAN BORN TO WALK WITH GOD, Y. M. C. A. SPEAKER ASSERTS

POSSESSION OF WEALTH DOES NOT LIFT MAN ABOVE THE BRUTE, THE REV. MAC INNES AVERS

"Why was I born?" is the question that the Rev. G. Kenneth Mac Innis of Green Bay answered for the men of Appleton at the Y. M. C. A. men's meeting Sunday afternoon.

If you think your nose knows, try this. If you think you can tell by the taste, try that. Dixie Margarine is the new, full butter-flavored margarine just created by Wm. J. Moxley, the founder of the Margarine Industry in America. Pasteurized into purity in every ingredient. It takes an expert butter taster to tell the difference between Dixie and good creamy butter. Dixie is also higher in food value than butter as all Food Experts agree. Therefore, buy it and try it today and save money on your butter bills from now on.

spiritually. It would be well for every man to sit down and ponder the question of what his purpose in life is. That pleasure, riches, the desire to accumulate, to serve or to rule should not be the only motive in life, were some of the important considerations pointed out by the speaker. Some men keep on grabbing all thru life and then die. Every man, he continued, should develop physically and mentally. Man, to be at his very best, must be developed above the brute. The fact that a man is clothed, fed, physically developed and possesses a palatial home and a good share of this world's good does not place him entirely out of the brute state, the Rev. Mr. Mac Innis further contended.

"No matter how aesthetic our natures may be," he remarked, "unless our souls and our spirits are cultured, we are not as perfect as we should be. Something higher than the worldly accomplishments is needed. When man is fully developed as he should be, he may talk with God. It is your business, men, to develop, to enjoy yourselves, to sharpen your wits, to gain culture, to accumulate honestly, and if you want to be real men, if you want to answer the question, 'why was I born,' you want to communicate with God. That doesn't deter you from having a good time. If I were a business man, I would accumulate all I could and have a good home, and an enjoy art, but I would rise higher than that and have God. I would have Jesus as my personal Savior. I would walk and talk with him."

Before the opening of the service, several violin and instrumental selections were given. At the opening of the program, Winifred Alexander, the blind singer of Lawrence college sang, "Thy Will be Done," a rendition which the Rev. Mr. Mac Innis remarked was in his opinion a message of the soul of the young man and had touched him deeply.

NOBODY LEARNS THE PAPERHANGING TRADE

LACK OF APPRENTICES RESULTS IN SHORTAGE OF EXPERTS AND DEMAND FOR MORE MONEY

Paper hangers will be in greater demand this summer than they were last for the reason that over half a dozen have gone elsewhere to work and there is no one to take their places. An increase of wages will be demanded, preliminary steps for which have been taken. "A peculiar thing about paper hanging is that we have no apprentices," said T. R. Feavel, Appleton street paper hanger and decorator. "I don't know of a young man in the city that is learning the trade. You will find them in almost any trade but paper hanging."

Mr. Feavel purchased the building on Appleton street occupied by Frank Snyder's saloon and expected to be in possession Feb. 1, but it is not yet vacated. He will make extensive improvements and will increase his stock which in his present quarters was never able to do on account of lack of room.

The 1920 samples of wall papers have not yet arrived, but Mr. Feavel expects them before the end of the month. He is not anticipating anything startling in the way of advance in prices or designs.

Paper hangers generally are anticipating a busy season this year as a lot of work was left over from last season. Then, too, those who delayed decorating their homes last year on account of high prices now realize their mistake and are planning to do it this year.

Carnegie library donations amount to $28,256.84. Both Carnegie and Rockefeller prefer to give donations proportionate to the amount raised by public subscription.

GOOD TURN WEEK TO BE OBSERVED BY THE BOY SCOUTS HERE

MAYOR HAWES ISSUES PROCLAMATION CALLING ON APPLETON PEOPLE TO AID MOVEMENT

Boy scouts of Appleton, of which there are nearly a half dozen troops, will observe good turn week from February 8 to February 14. The week marks the tenth anniversary of the organization of the Scout movement in America. Every member of the organization, and every other person as well, is requested to do a good turn to some other person each day of the week.

Mayor J. Austin Hawes, who is taking a very keen interest in the welfare of Appleton's future citizens, has issued a proclamation in which he appeals to Appleton people to aid the scouts and respond to their appeal to do a good turn each day of the week. His proclamation follows:

To the Citizens of Appleton: The Boy Scouts of America, has passed the tenth year of its activity as an organization.

It aims to promote the welfare of boys and creates in them, the spirit of service and fair-play; instilling in them desires for healthy athletic bodies and builds up a feeling of civic pride. This organization endeavors to spread the spirit of doing good to others and requests the assistance and cooperation of all citizens.

As Mayor of the City of Appleton, I urge that our citizens generally respond in the observance of "Good Turn Week," February 8th to 14th, the tenth anniversary of the founding of this movement, during which period every man, woman and child is urged to do a good turn each day.

"Up in Mabel's Room" "Up in Mabel's Room," the farce which kept all New York laughing for months, last season, will be presented at the Appleton Theatre on Wed. Feb. 4, under the direction of A. H. Woods. The play has been described as a frivolous farce of feminine foibles and is the work of Wilson Collinson and Otto Harbach. It is in three acts and the scenes are laid in a country home on Long Island. The story of the play deals with the farcical adventures of Garry Ainsworth, a young benedict who is confronted on his honeymoon with the evidence of an old indiscretion. The evidence in this case is a pink chemise which he had unwittingly given to a beautiful and charming widow of whom he had been fond in his bachelor days. This chemise was unfortunately inscribed "Mabel from Garry" and the slightly jealous and exceedingly mischievous Mabel threatened to show it to Garry's wife. Garry pleaded, coaxed and cajoled in an effort to get the chemise back, and finally decided to steal it. More difficulties arose than he dreamed of in the course of his adventures, he found himself in situation after situation, painful to himself, but that furnished the greatest delight to his audiences. How the fateful chemise was finally captured and Garry's troubles brought to an end, cannot be divulged without detracting from the interest of the play. "Up in Mabel's Room" is as full of fun as any farce in recent years. The production is a costly and elaborate one and the company carefully selected.

PLAINTIFF WINS $10,000 AGAINST RAILROAD

Marinette, Wis.—In the damage suit of High Schooler, against the St. Paul railway the jury returned a verdict of $10,000 for the plaintiff. The latter was struck by a train on a crossing in this city and suffered serious injuries. The city council for several years have asked that this crossing be guarded by gates without success, and it is believed that is what influenced the jury. Two more damage suits for a total of $20,000, due to the same accident are still pending.

SEEK UNIFORM PRICE FOR WOODMEN BOARD

Madison, Wis.—The value of board and lodging furnished woodmen by lumber companies is to be measured by a uniform basis to be decided by a council called by the industrial commission of Wisconsin in connection with the convention of the Northern Hemlock and Hardwood Manufacturers' association.

The commission has invited all lumber companies, compensation insurance companies and representatives of organized labor to take part. Some fair figures indicating the value of board and lodging furnished woodmen will be reached, it is hoped, to be applied uniformly throughout the state in the settlement of compensation claims and pay roll audits.

Some years ago the commission fixed $15 a month as representing the fair value of board and lodging furnished woodmen. With the increase in food prices this figure has clearly become inadequate and there is now no uniform rule accepted by the commission and insurance companies.

FOND DU LAC IS IN PANIC OVER THE FLU

PUBLIC DANCES PROHIBITED AND OTHER AMUSEMENTS MAY BE CURTAILED—ELEVEN DEATHS

(By Karl H. Keyser.) Fond du Lac—With forty-five new cases of flu reported on Saturday, the health authorities are taking all possible steps for its prevention. The first big step of the fight is the prohibition of all public dances. This ban took effect at midnight Sunday. Plans are being made to space seats at the various theatres, but definite steps in regard to this plan have not yet been taken.

On the Saturday evening 185 cases of the flu were reported and but one recovery. Eleven was the death toll Saturday. Most of the deaths are due to pneumonia. All houses having cases of flu are being placarded.

INDUSTRIAL BOARD FIXES PAY OF PHONE OPERATORS

Supplementary Order of Minimum Wage Law is Issued by Commission—Different Rates for Day and Night Service

Madison, Wis.—An order determining the number of hours for which telephone companies shall pay their operators under the Minimum Wage law was sent by the industrial commission to all telephone companies in the state. This order supplements the original minimum wage order which became effective August 1, 1919.

The order of the commission provides that in exchanges which are maintained in private residences and conducted exclusively by the members of the household, the payment of a wage of fifty cents per month per phone to the operators will be regarded as compliance with the minimum wage law. Outside help employed in private residences, however, must be paid on the same basis as are operators in separate exchanges. In exchanges conducted outside of the private residences different bases of pay are adopted for the day period from 6 a. m. to 10 p. m. and for the night rest period from 10 p. m. to 6 a. m. For the day period it is provided that in exchanges with less than 200 telephones the operators shall be paid for 11 of the 16 hours on duty; in exchanges with between 200 and 219 telephones for 12 hours; in exchanges with 220 to 239 telephones for 13 hours; in exchanges with 240 to 259 telephones for 14 hours; in exchanges with 260 to 274 telephones for 15 hours; and in exchanges with 275 telephones or more for the entire 16 hours.

LAMPERT BILL WILL IMPROVE WATERWAYS

Oshkosh, Wis.—If the rivers and harbors bill presented in congress by Congressman Florian Lampert of this city, representing the Sixth district, is passed, it will mean several important improvements in the waters in this vicinity.

Mr. Lampert has written here that the bill has gone through the house favorably and if it is also passed by the senate, it will be possible to have a survey made of the proposed harbor of refuge at the former golf grounds in West Algona, this city.

The harbor of refuge at the golf links will be on Lake Duette des Morts, the city recently having acquired the links for park purposes. Another item in the bill provides for the improvement of Green Bay harbor and the Fox river from Oshkosh to its mouth.

A bill is also in congress for a survey of Luco creek, between Fond du Lac and the village of Tachecedah, with the idea of establishing a harbor of refuge.

FORMER APPLETON RESIDENT'S BOOK IS PUT ON MARKET

FRANK CHANNING HADDOCK'S "POWER OF WILL" PUBLISHED YEARS AFTER HIS DEATH

Frank Channing Haddock's new book, "Power of Will," the greater part of which was written in Appleton and was not published until after his death has made its appearance and is in great demand. Mr. Haddock, who was a former Appleton resident, and whose father, the Rev. George C. Haddock, was one of the early pastors of the Methodist church, went west several years ago, where he died in 1915 just after completing his book.

The book has just been published and put on the market by the Pelton Publishing company of Meriden, Conn. The publishers claim that it is a world-famous code of will-power and brain building. It shows what is lacking in a person's makeup. It reveals rare methods for applying success-powers. Appleton friends have just received circulars and booklets concerning the new book.

The author was born at Watertown, New York in 1833 and graduated from Lawrence college in 1876. He died Feb. 15, 1915. He was married Oct. 25, 1877, to Mary Nash Conkey of Appleton, a classmate, who died Jan. 12, 1915. Two daughters, Marion Theodora and Helen Conkey Haddock, survive him. He was pastor of various churches in Maine, Connecticut, Ohio and Massachusetts, and was editor of various publications during his life time, as well as contributor to many others.

CHAMPION GUERNSEYS SHOWN AT MADISON

Twenty-three thousand dollars worth of livestock was sold following the show, the 52 head disposed of averaging more than $150 an animal. Two bulls and one female animal brought $1,000 each.

SPEAKER RILEY-YOUNG AGAIN CANDIDATE

Madison, Wis.—Speaker Riley Young will again be candidate for the Wisconsin assembly. While in the city visiting friends he announced that he intended to enter the campaign for assemblyman, and while he made no further announcements it is probable that, should he be elected, he will again be a candidate for speaker of the lower house. Several assemblymen were in Madison Thursday attending the road school. Among those were Assemblymen John Ricks, Grant county, Clarence Carter, Vernon county, and O. P. Vaughan, Crawford county.

THE POST-CRESCENT.

The consolidation of The Daily Post and the Appleton Crescent is a step in line with the economic tendency in business and in all fields of constructive activity. It is self-evident that one newspaper in a city of this size will, if conscientiously and competently managed, be a better newspaper than two. The cost of conducting the publishing business today is very heavy. Costs have increased 150 per cent in the largest element of expense, that of newsprint, and in the neighborhood of 100 per cent in all other items. The investment outlay required to equip a modern plant also is large. In addition to paying substantial prices for the two properties here, the new owners of the Post-Crescent will expend upwards of $30,000 for the purchase of new equipment and for reorganization.

Today's conditions make it impossible for two daily newspapers to successfully compete in a city and territory of limited size, and show a profit balance at the end of the year. The only way they could exist long would be to reduce the cost of operation to such a figure that the product would be of inferior quality. This is to the advantage of neither the publisher nor the public. Both suffer from such a situation, and particularly the latter. A newspaper is in the nature of a quasi-public utility. It is not a business organized solely, or may we venture to suggest principally, for profit. Those engaged in this pursuit almost invariably regard it as a public trust and their chief interest lies in the moral rewards from service rather than in the financial returns.

A newspaper which is a power for good, which is a potent influence in the up-building of the community, which defends the public interests and promotes the welfare of the people, is an institution that yields its greatest dividends in the consciousness of duty well performed. The day once was when the newspaper was an instrument for the advancement of personal ambitions, when it served special rather than public interests, when it was the tool, or shall we dignify it with the name "organ," of a political party, which generally meant politicians. That day is over. The great power in the publishing world today is the independent, untrammelled, free press. It has little to do with politics, nothing to do with partisanship, and nothing to give to those who seek its assistance to gain office or use elections to help private interests.

The independent newspaper serves no master. It is not controlled by politicians; party pressure or any other self-seeking interest. It bears no party label. Its policies are governed by what it conceives to be for the good of the people, of the community, of the state and nation, without the slightest regard for political organizations or office seekers. It is always free to take any position it desires. It is free to reverse itself if it decides that a stand previously taken was a mistake. Its sole aim and its sole standard is to promote sound public policies and to help make its environment a better place in which to live and do business.

The Post-Crescent proposes to serve Appleton and its surrounding territory in this manner, with these purposes, to the best of its ability. It realizes that it must do this in order to obtain and hold the confidence of the people. It desires to place itself in a position to maintain these standards. The first requisite was the consolidation of the two dailies into one, so that the combined property would have a field from which to draw sufficient support on which to build a larger and better newspaper. This has been accomplished. The second requisite was the installation of modern equipment of increased capacity, and this has been contracted for, including a $28,000 press. The third requisite was the creation of an efficient organization, and this is being worked out. It will take three or four months for the Post-Crescent to produce the newspaper it is laying plans to publish, and in the meantime we trust our readers will be patient and not expect too much.

Within the last five or ten years there has been a steady movement toward consolidating daily newspapers. Even great cities like Chicago, New York, Detroit and Indianapolis and others are not exempt from it. In Wisconsin we have had these consolidations at Racine, La Crosse, Green Bay, Manitowoc, Sheboygan. Over in Michigan the tendency is highly developed, several cities of from 50,000 to 80,000 having but one newspaper. Perhaps we find in that state the most successful development of the modern daily in cities of less than 100,000 to be found in any state in the union. Lansing, Kalamazoo, Saginaw, Flint, Bay City, Muskegon, Jackson, Battle Creek, are all consolidated newspaper towns, and their publications are of a very high order. The production of the metropolitan newspaper we find there and in Wisconsin in the "one-paper" cities would not be possible, in quality, size, or influence, within the field divided between two dailies.

The publishers of the Post-Crescent have brought about the purchase and union of the two properties it represents with the purpose of giving Appleton the benefit of the economies, efficiency and resources thereby obtained. We believe it is what the people want, what the business men desire, what public policy demands. What affects Appleton and its people will be of first concern to the Post-Crescent. It is a newspaper for their use and we hope to build it into their confidence and support through merit and service.

ROOSEVELT DAY.

At the annual meeting of the American Forestry Association, a resolution was adopted calling on the schools, women's organizations and public bodies generally in the United States to make Jan. 6, the day that Theodore Roosevelt died, "Roosevelt Day," and to observe it with exercises appropriate to the policy of forest conservation for which T. R. issued the first clarion call in this country.

It was back in 1904 that the first conference of American governors was held in the White House. At this meeting, President Roosevelt said:

"Every step of the progress of mankind is marked by the discovery and use of natural resources previously unused. Without such progressive knowledge and utilization of natural resources population could not grow, new industries multiply, nor the hidden wealth of the earth be developed for the benefit of mankind. We want to take action that will prevent the advent of a woodless age and defer as long as possible the advent of an ironless age."

Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Forestry Association, declares that because of the drain of war this statement is ten times more important today than when the late president expressed it. "Our forests are like a bank," is the way Pack puts it, "for if we expect to draw out we must make deposits. Wood is the backbone of industry, and with our forests replenishing themselves by growth at only one-third the rate they are being used or destroyed by fire every year the finish is in sight."

MID-WINTER
Under the snow the grass is sleeping,
Under the bark the sap is seeping;
Deep in the dark the fields are heaping
Honey and wine and corn.
Under it all old Earth is keeping Wealth for the babe unborn.

Under the ice the rills are flowing,
Under the ice the flowers are blowing,
Under the white, the wheat is growing,
Growing for you and me.
Summer and sun will find it glowing
Green as an emerald sea.

Under the drifts of winter's piling,
Violets hide and the ferns are smiling,
Whispering low of the after-billing
Under a foam-flecked sky.
When, through the cloistered forest aisling,
Lovers shall wander by.

Back of the North Wind fierce and flinging,
Back of the tempest, biting, stinging,
The nest of the oriole soon is swinging
And the blue-bird bubbles "Wait!"
And tip-toed there on the ridge-pole singing,
Red Robin calls his mate.

Under the frown of thick-browed master,
Under the welter of world disaster,
Under the wintry blight,
The world is stirred and the blood flows faster,
The brain grows clear and the vision rarer;
Freedom our lord and Truth our pastor!
Summer — and life — and light!

Confessions of a Bride

(Copyright, 1920, by The Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

"If We Are Going to Die, We Will Die Together," Says Bob
I told Bob the story of my adventure. I made it as short as possible. Nothing could be strange, in our strange situation. Not even the mention of the names of Jordan Spence and Gene Archer excited Bob. His first comment was brief and to the point:

"Nobody planned this little reunion for us, my love. That we know, all right."
"Obviously two rival influences have been working against us," I asserted.
"And working independently of each other. And they've muffed it," said Bob. "I'm sure that Certeis had me shut up. How he came to have the chance, I'll tell you later. He didn't go to it directly, he'll make me. Nobody can ever accuse him. He took that precaution."

"I'm here, because Donna Camilla hates me," I explained.
"There may be secondary reasons—such as my own rashness—but Donna Camilla is the important reason. I do not believe that either of the arch-conspirators knew what the other was plotting," I added.

"And so they defeated each other—by giving you back to my arms," Bob concluded, with a kiss.

"If we are going to die," I whispered, "we will die—"
"I couldn't finish the sentence, Bob did that for me."

"Together," he said with his lips on mine.
"If a wife has loved a husband as sincerely as I have loved Bob, 'being together' becomes her supreme need. 'Being together' will make even dying easy. I wasn't afraid any longer of sudden death by accident or murder. I had my husband with me."

But my love and my presence didn't reconcile my husband to leave this life.

On the contrary, it immediately strengthened his desire to survive. He exclaimed:

"Die? Not yet, my dear. I'm resigned to the end and I'm not going to be for quite a little while. When I was alone down there, helpless and hopeless, facing the inevitable, I managed to camouflage a pretty fair degree of courage and philosophy, but my dear, now that you're with me, I want to live and I swear, by all the love we have for each other, that you and I are going to get out of this somehow."

"Bob—together—we can—we can manage anything!" I ventured rashly. Then to prove my words true I meditated upon a possibility of escape. There was but one way out of the dungeon. Bob would have to go up by the way I had come down. It ended, to be sure, in another prison. But it was a nicer prison than the one we occupied. Moreover, we had friends in the secret chamber. I wondered why they were so still. Not a sound betrayed their presence above us.

"I should think they would call to us," I said.
"I have a rope—Chrys and I made it. They could lengthen it to reach to the bottom of the shaft."

"I suppose they think you are dead, Jane," Bob said solemnly.

"I'm very much alive—so much so that I could help you overpower your guard, when he comes. When will he come, Bob?"

"Never—never again, my dear. The uniformed Mexicans who put me down here informed me that I had seen the last of this earth. One was a kind fellow. He left me an automatic. He said it was against orders—but he didn't want me to suffer needlessly. He took my valuables in exchange. I'm mighty glad I have that gun, now you're with me, Jane."

Bob didn't explain why he was glad he had the gun. He didn't need to. I knew and pressed his hand to let him know how completely I understood his meaning. If he died first—and if I were left, what would I need except that automatic?

Many Countries Compete for Manpower
New York.—With the United States, Europe, Canada and some of the South American countries clamoring for new man-power, competition for immigration is today practically on the same footing as the world struggle for commercial supremacy.

This is revealed as a result of a study made by the Inter-Racial Council of New York and described in a statement soon to be issued in the form of a bulletin to the leading industries of the country. The statement says:

"The present shortage of foreign-born unskilled workers, due to the lack of immigration during the war and the emigration to home countries, proposed anti-alien legislation and other causes, calls attention to the fact that the United States is not the only country offering economic opportunities to the immigrant labor of the world."

"The Canadian government appropriates several hundred thousand dollars annually to care for and encourage immigration to Canada. Agents are stationed in the principal European cities. They have with them traveling exhibits of Canada's opportunities. The government pays bonuses to steamship offices for selling passage tickets to Canada."

"Austrian provinces are assisting immigration. New Zealand arranges with the shipping companies for reduced fares for desirable immigrants."

"Argentina is receiving large numbers of Italians, Spaniards and French. Free land is given to the newcomers. Naturalized citizens are exempted from military service for ten years—a concession which means much to some of the races from Europe who have endured militaristic governments."

"Brazil's immigration laws will not only give free passage to all who come to its ports as immigrants, but will take care of them on arrival, transport them to their destination, provide them with tools and seeds and supply them with medicine and care for their families."

"The Department of Emigration and Immigration in Germany has been formed to work for the return of Germans from foreign countries. Hungary likewise is urging the return of former subjects."

"France is counting on a considerable influx of Italian agricultural labor. It is stated that Italian emigration to North and South America will be much smaller in the future, although the seasonal migration to nearby European countries will continue."

A profession which has flourished during the war and which is more prosperous in Paris at present than at any time is said to be of fortune telling. An official estimate puts the number of fortune tellers, mediums and psychic prophets of the unknown who live and practice in Paris at 35,000.—London Mail.

It is said that the name horse chestnut was derived from the fact that when the leaves of the tree fall there is a scar let on the twig in the shape of a horseshoe, that bears marks resembling the nails of a shoe.

A profitable business is done in some large English towns by lending turtles to restaurants. They are permitted to remain in the windows for a few days, and are then taken to different parts of the town as advertisements for other eating houses.

Bernhardt Had the Last Word

Many intimate close-ups of famous actors, writers and poets are included in Mrs. Clement Scott's new book, "Old Days in Bohemian London" ("Stories"). Among them is a description of the difficulties undergone by Cosmo Gordon Lennox when interpreting for Sarah Bernhardt in a violent argument with Sir Henry Irving. The argument had to do with the difference in fees demanded by French and English authors:

"The crisis had been reached and Sarah, her golden voice ringing wildly, clinched the conversation with this astounding utterance: 'Mon cher Irving, in such a case I turn to the good gentleman and say, 'Je m'en fou de vous.'"

After a short pause Cosmo Lennox did his level best to explain what Sarah had said and wound up with:

"I tell the gentlemen to go to blazes."

"But Sarah, with the sensitive ear of a brilliant actress, even for a language she does not understand, replied vehemently:

"Pas du tout, pas du tout, ce nest pas assez fort."

"Cosmo got hot all over and made another dash for it:

"I tell him to go to hell."

"There was a thrill of pleasure or horror as the golden voice continued:

"Pas assez fort! Pas assez fort!"

"At last with courage of desperation Lennox made a final effort:

"I tell him to go to—"

"Crash! Somebody mercifully by accident or intent, smashed a decanter, and under the cover of the confusion he managed to hit on a word which apparently satisfied the actress's sense of proportion.

"As a matter of fact, Sarah's charm was such that she could use any expression without the slightest trace of vulgarity; but when this same expression came to be translated into somewhat halting English by a highly nervous interpreter, it sounded truly—well it became impossible, it simply couldn't be done."

Says Europeans Shun Fresh Air

Europeans do not like fresh air. They feel a good deal like the gentleman in Stephen Leacock's story, who said he liked fresh air, and believed you should open the windows and get in all you could. Then you should shut the windows and keep it there. It would keep for years.

I have been in many rooms in France where the windows were nailed shut. The beds also are rather remarkable. They are generally fitted with feather mattresses and feather quilts. Very often they are arranged in a niche in the wall like a closet, and have two doors, which the average European, after getting into the bed, closes, thereby rendering it about as airy and well ventilated as a coffin.

I remember my own billet in one of the towns where we stopped. As I was commanding officer, it was one of the best and was reasonably warm. It was warm because the barnyard was next door, literally in the next room, as all that separated me from a cow was a light deal door by the side of the bed. The cow was tied to the door. When the cow slept, but if the cow passed a restless night I had all the opportunity I needed to think over my past sins and future plans.

In another town an excellent billet was not used by the officers because over the bed were hung photographs of all the various persons who had died in the house, taken while they lay dead in that bed—"Average American," by Theodore Roosevelt. (G. P. Putnam's Sons, New York.)

To Revise Government Pay

Charwomen in government service have asked for the recently recommended minimum wage of $1320 a year in a brief presented to the joint congressional commission on reclassification of salaries in the district.

Head charwoman asked for a minimum wage of $1800 a year, with an automatic increase of $25 a year for four years, until a maximum of $1600 is reached. Charwomen asked for an automatic increase of $20 a year for four years until a maximum of $1400 is reached.

Keepers at the National Zoological park in a brief presented to the reclassification commission, asked for a salary scale from $1500 to $1800 a year. A salary of $3000 a year was asked for the head keeper. A range of $1200 to $1400 was asked for assistant keepers, the laborers in the animal department.

The reclassification commission has requested the board of education to submit a supplementary brief setting forth its opinions as to what increases in pay and revisions in positions should be made in the school system.—Washington Star.

Autobiography of a Plain Baby—V

The Commissary Department

A good many of us babies get a bad deal through the health-ignorance of our mothers. It's a queer thing, far beyond my feeble comprehension, how parents will raise a daughter and see her married off and imagine they have done their best for her, and yet they have never given her the slightest instruction in the greatest, the noblest of all callings, motherhood. Why don't the public schools, the high schools at least, teach such vital things? Looks to me as though some evil genius must control the educational system, when they ignore and evade the greatest truths in giving future mothers and fathers what it called a "fair education." Fair? I call it very unfair to us babies.

My dad, the doctor, says the cause of inflammation of the breast of a nursing mother is infection through the nipple. Trifling, perhaps unnoticed cracks of the skin afford the means of entry for germs which are instantly present on the surface of the cleanest skin. Therefore they went to considerable trouble and pains in the first four weeks of my life to bathe the nipples and surrounding skin carefully with boric acid solution (tablespoonful of boric acid dissolved in a pint of boiled water) then to rinse with pure boiled water so that no taste of the boric acid should be noticed when I nursed. After the fourth week there is much less likelihood of breast inflammation or abscess and the precaution may then be omitted, since the mother will have acquired natural resistance sufficient to protect her against the danger of such infection.

Two things I have heard father condemn in the most vigorous fashion. My dad can "condemn" a man when he is good and mad, and some things, I guess, are enough to make a saint swear. Massaging or rubbing of the breast of a young mother, and pumping with a breast pump are absolutely unnecessary and always dangerous if the baby is alive and able to nurse. What starts the fireworks with dad is the old women's yarns and imaginations about "caked breast." True, when a breast is much inflamed from infection through somebody's carelessness or uncleanness, the gland tissue becomes hardened in places. But to imagine that is from any change in the milk in the breast is absurd; it is merely a congestion or engorgement of the infected area with lymph, blood serum, such as occurs in and about any infected area. Rubbing or massaging such an inflamed area is not only atrociously painful but useless and sometimes exceedingly harmful, because it tends to spread the infection and increase the inflammation. The wise course in such a case is absolute rest of the inflamed organ—the breast should be properly supported and bandaged and not disturbed in any way, not even for nursing. If there is a chance that the inflammation may subside, this is it. The general condition of the patient requires attention by the doctor.

Father declares that the majority of breast abscesses and inflammations are due to ignorance, uncleanness and unwarranted interference by unskilled or over-zealous "practical nurses."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

The Doctor's Orders

Our older boy, aged five, has had a running ear for some time. We have tried many remedies for it, including an extra expensive course of massage and spinal treatment. Last week my wife decided to take him to an ordinary doctor. He examined the nose, throat, and ear, and these are his exact words: "Hum, not much left to run. The boy's ear will never get well until you have had the tonsils removed." Surgical enthusiasm! Please let me have some of your common sense advice.

ANSWER—You had better do as your doctor suggests.

Ten Years

Kindly give your opinion as to the advisability of a marriage of a couple in whose ages there is a difference of ten years.

ANSWER—So far as that is concerned, on with the ceremony. It isn't the years; it is the spirit.

No Such Disease

Please tell me the cause of anemia, its symptoms, and the most effective remedy. (Mrs. E. C. B.)

ANSWER—Send a stamped self-addressed envelope and I will mail you a pamphlet on anemia. It is a symptom in itself. There is no particular remedy—treatment or prevention depends on the cause, and there are many causes.

THREE SPEAKERS APPEAL FOR AID FOR ARMENIA AT MASS MEETING IN LAWRENCE CHAPEL

The appalling conditions existing in Armenia were vividly related by Captain Stephen Peabody, Appleton; the Rev. William J. Ohan, Chicago, and Mrs. Stephen Rosebush, speakers at the mass-meeting held in the interest of Armenian relief at Lawrence Memorial chapel Sunday night. The speakers pleaded for American assistance to relieve the destitution and suffering of the Armenian people.

The meeting was the opening gun of the campaign to raise $15,000 in Outagamie county for the Near East relief. Dr. H. E. Peabody, county chairman, presided.

A splendid musical program was offered under the direction of Dean Evans of Lawrence Conservatory of music. Numbers were rendered by a mixed chorus of more than 100 voices, and a mixed double quartet. The latter consisted of Dean Evans, Arthur Vincent, bass; Harry Wilson, Prof. Carl J. Waterman, tenor; Mrs. J. F. Quinlan, Mrs. P. G. W. Keller, soprano; Mrs. Eleanor Mehl Berger, Mrs. E. E. Dunn, alto. The Rev. Doane Johnson of All Saints church, led in prayer.

The Rev. M. Ohan is a native Armenian of Prof. C. J. Waterman of University of Wisconsin, who was unable to appear because of the serious illness of his son.

A crowd which comfortably filled the large auditorium attended the meeting.

The Rev. M. Ohan is a native Armenian, and his description of the suffering and privations endured by the Armenians under Turkish domination stirred the audience. He is pastor of Bethany Presbyterian church, Chicago.

"Armenia is on the cross, and has been for the past six hundred years," said the speaker. "Armenia is nailed to the cross of suffering, her heart is thrust with the sword, her lips are parched her body feverish; Armenia needs help."

"Armenia is worth saving," he declared. "The people are keen, industrious, and Christian. Take everything, but leave us our faith, the Armenians said to their oppressors centuries ago."

Jealousy of the Armenian financial ability, and racial hatred are two of the prime reasons for the oppression of the Armenians, the speaker declared. He drew a verbal picture of an Armenian village, a model of industry and thrift, composed of model homes, with one wife, and children well cared for, a Christian church, and with a plurality of wives, ill cared for, a plurality of wives, ill cared for, a plurality of wives, ill cared for.

"The Armenian works hard, and is thrifty. Under his hand the changes to gold. His ability breeds consciousness in the mind of his enemy."

"Then there is the racial hatred. For six hundred years my people have suffered at the hands of the Turk. For six hundred years, the people of Armenia have had a constant nightmare—have heard the sounds of Turkish massacre and bloodshed. There is a knife constantly at their backs. Then do you wonder at this?"

"I remember one Monday night, Father, being a minister had retired early, as it was his day off. There was a rap at the door. Ohan is wanted by the government immediately. But it is night, my mother said. Again the demand. My father was dragged from his bed by the two attackers who entered the house, into the cold night air, with no bodily protection from the cold. Outside there were 2,000 Moslems. Kill him, was the cry. We'll teach him to teach Christianity in the village. He was beaten, until not an inch of his body had escaped. For thirty-five days we knew not whether he was living or dead."

"For one year we lived on starvation rations, a glass of water and a crust of bread, smuggled in by friends."

"O, you men and women of America, you don't know what it is to be hungry, what it is to go for days, and days and days with nothing but a crust of bread."

"The situation in Armenia then was bad, but it was nothing compared to what it is today. It is a land of sorrow, the home of weeping and wailing. Three hundred thousand people are awaiting your help and aid."

"One hundred and fifty children are perishing daily of starvation, want and disease caused by the almost unspeakable conditions of suffering existent."

"I know Appleton will do its share in this work. I was at Milwaukee, and when the question of Appleton came up, it was said, Appleton is all right, Appleton went over the top, strong before and will do so again."

Captain Stephen Peabody, a member of the Near East Relief commission and son of Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Peabody, was the opening speaker on the program. Captain Peabody had been working in the stricken country for a year. He told of the relief work which the commission is performing, and pleaded for additional assistance to complete the work being done. "When the workers were notified that a curtailment of relief to a great extent would be necessary unless additional funds were forthcoming from America, the motto became, 'We can't do it.' That is the spirit of the men there, the work begun must be completed, Captain Peabody said."

One and a half million people are starving in Armenia," the speaker said in opening his address. "Only the women and children and old men remain in the country. Most of the people have only one article of clothing. In some cases this is only an American flour sack."

"Unable to find their homes, the people live in the streets unless taken care of by the relief organizations. The men who have escaped deportation have gone into the army, there to succumb to disease thru lack of necessities."

"There is no employment. The people cry for work as well as for bread."

A pitiful experience during one of the early days spent in the far east related by the speaker told of the discovery of a bundle of rags on the streets. Examination showed the child huddled in the tattered garments was nothing but a bundle of bones. Head sunk down between the knees, the child was a testimony of the hideous privations endured by the children of Armenia. Taken to a place of care, the child regained strength rapidly, and soon became a favorite for prettiness and intelligence.

"It is winter now, and the situation is acute. It is as cold there as here. What can we do? There is no work; one third of the people are without clothing. The condition in the interior is unsettled. Turkish armies are there, terrorizing the inhabitants."

Commissions are aiding the people thru immediate relief, industrial relief, and cutting down prices of ne-

EVERETT TRUE—BY CONDO

FARMERS FEAR SHORTAGE OF FEED AS SILAGE SPOILS

Several Deaths Reported as Result of Eating Molded Silage—Early Spring Necessary to Avoid Suffering

"A great portion of the silage put up last fall is not keeping and I know several instances where cattle have died from eating it," said a farmer who visited Appleton Saturday.

He was questioned as to the cause, but was unable to give any. "Some of it is covered with mold," he said, "which evidently is poisonous from the manner in which it effects cattle."

Instances have been reported where cattle refused to eat the silage and this is thought to be due to the fact that the corn was not cut early enough. The majority of farmers make a practice of cutting it before it ripens.

The fact that many fields of corn were replanted and was late in maturing may have had something to do with the quality of silage. Nearly every farmer in the county has a silo and silage constitutes his principal feed.

"We are going to run short of feed," said the farmer, "unless we have a nearly spring. The winter which started early in November, has been unusually severe and the shortage promises to be general. The condition of silage makes the situation even more serious."

necessities, said the speaker telling of the way in which funds already subscribed have been expended.

The weaving and spinning industries are being revived. Rations of bread and soup are provided the destitute daily. Free clinics are held in the town, and treatment given to about 100 patients daily. The bringing in of American flour has reduced the price of bread from 40 to ten cents a loaf. The British are taking Armenian women from Turkish harems. Everywhere everything possible is being done. But limited funds necessitate limited relief.

Conditions of privation and destitution in Armenia were described in a brief address by Mrs. Stephen Rosebush, who urged American aid for the suffering people.

UNIVERSITY PROFS ARE GIVEN SALARY INCREASE

(Special to Post-Crescent) Madison.—An increase in salaries, amounting to about 25 per cent per annum and beginning with the second semester of the current year, has just been granted to the faculty of the University of Wisconsin by action of the Board of Regents.

The announcement of the increase was made by President E. A. Birge at a faculty meeting this afternoon.

In announcing the increase to the faculty, President Birge said: "The Regents of the university have made a substantial addition to the salaries of the faculty to take effect the second semester of the current year. The addition applies to those persons who were members of the faculty in preceding years and only in exceptional cases to those who entered the faculty with the current year. This change in salaries has not been made on the basis of a flat percentage, but the addition amounts to the average rate of nearly 25 per cent for professors and to a somewhat smaller rate for instructors. During the war and since its close substantially no addition has been made to the salaries of professors, while considerable advances have been made in salaries of the teachers of lower rank. The university, in common with all other institutions, recognized that the men on lower salaries were hit more immediately and harder by rising costs than those receiving larger pay, and properly used its resources first to meet such cases."

The primary election will be Tuesday, Mar. 23, and all nomination papers must be filed by Mar. 8, fifteen days before the primary. Councilman Charles F. Hart, former member of the state legislature, is the councilman whose term will expire next April. He is seen as the unexpired term of Congressman Florian Lampert and is out to make the race for re-election. Others who seek votes at the primary are Jacob Zwickey, George W. Neumann, Harvey O. Olson, Dr. C. Pfeiffer and Richard J. Jones.

At the regular election, Apr. 6, a judge of the circuit court will be elected to succeed Judge George W. Burnell. Judge Burnell is expected to be re-elected and D. E. McDonald is also out for the judgeship.

HUNDREDS OF TRIALS IN BISBEE KIDNAPING CASES

By M. D. Tracey
By United Press Leased Wire
Tombstone, Ariz.—Hundreds of separate trials loomed as a possibility today as court opened for the start of the cases against Bisbee, Arizona citizens growing out of the deportation of one thousand alleged I. W. W. last year.

The defense was expected to demand separate trials for each of the 150 men named in a joint indictment. The Arizona law provides that separate trials must be granted in such cases if asked.

In addition to the men included in the joint indictment, 212 others were indicted separately.

The maximum penalty for kidnaping, the charge named in the indictments, is imprisonment in the penitentiary for one to ten years or a fine of $2,000 to $10,000 or both.

LEAGUE OF KINDLY TONGUE PASSES ITS SIXTH ANNIVERSARY

DR. W. D. MARSH, FORMERLY OF APPLETON, HAS ENROLLED 20,000 IN ORGANIZATION

With more than 20,000 men, women and children enrolled, the League of the Kindly Tongue, established by the Rev. W. D. Marsh, passed its sixth anniversary January 25. The organization was formed by Dr. Marsh while pastor of First Methodist church here and has spread to all but three states in the Union and to many foreign countries. Dr. Marsh is now pastor of a church in Malone, N. Y., and preached a sermon on the league on its sixth anniversary.

The 20,000 members are pledged to keep watch over their tongues and to avoid harmful gossip and to inculcate the practice of cheerful and encouraging speech.

When Dr. Marsh started the league he had no idea that it would spread beyond the confines of the local church. To his surprise the movement seemed to meet a long felt need and within a few weeks chapters had been formed in dozens of cities. The fame of the League spread rapidly and soon it had adherents in other states and even in foreign countries.

The league was spread without effort on the part of its founder. Hundreds of letters commending its purpose and asking for membership cards were received and chapters with more than 1,000 members were formed in many churches.

The pledge of the league is simplicity in itself but if carefully adhered to will make this world a better place in which to live. All members are expected to sign this statement of intention:

"I purpose to abstain from unkind speech, and as often as possible, to speak in the spirit of Christ to stranger, friend and kin, words of cheer, courage and counsel."

GRAND RAPIDS ELKS STAND AGAINST REDS

Grand Rapids, B.P.O.E. No. 693, have taken a decided stand against Red radicals, Bolshevism, anti-Americanism and other unpatriotic organization or person in a resolution adopted by the lodge and sent broadcast to the members.

The resolution adopted by the Elks provided quite a contrast to a resolution by the central labor body of Grand Rapids, which has representative delegates from each union in the city. At their meeting they drew up and sent out the following resolution: "Resolved, That we accordingly urge upon the president of the United States, upon the attorney general of the United States, the secretary of war and the president of the American Federation of Labor, with all earnestness our command, the necessity of granting an immediate amnesty to all prisoners whose religious, political or economic beliefs formed the basis of their prosecution, trial and imprisonment."

SIX OSHKOSH CITIZENS SEEK COUNCIL JOB

Oshkosh.—That the job of being a member of the commission council of Oshkosh has no terrors for some Oshkosh citizens is evident from the fact that to date six candidates have come out for the office, which means six years at the city hall at $3,500 a year.

The primary election will be Tuesday, Mar. 23, and all nomination papers must be filed by Mar. 8, fifteen days before the primary. Councilman Charles F. Hart, former member of the state legislature, is the councilman whose term will expire next April. He is seen as the unexpired term of Congressman Florian Lampert and is out to make the race for re-election. Others who seek votes at the primary are Jacob Zwickey, George W. Neumann, Harvey O. Olson, Dr. C. Pfeiffer and Richard J. Jones.

At the regular election, Apr. 6, a judge of the circuit court will be elected to succeed Judge George W. Burnell. Judge Burnell is expected to be re-elected and D. E. McDonald is also out for the judgeship.

HUNDREDS OF TRIALS IN BISBEE KIDNAPING CASES

By M. D. Tracey
By United Press Leased Wire
Tombstone, Ariz.—Hundreds of separate trials loomed as a possibility today as court opened for the start of the cases against Bisbee, Arizona citizens growing out of the deportation of one thousand alleged I. W. W. last year.

The defense was expected to demand separate trials for each of the 150 men named in a joint indictment. The Arizona law provides that separate trials must be granted in such cases if asked.

In addition to the men included in the joint indictment, 212 others were indicted separately.

The maximum penalty for kidnaping, the charge named in the indictments, is imprisonment in the penitentiary for one to ten years or a fine of $2,000 to $10,000 or both.

NEARLY 4,000 MEN IN NATIONAL GUARD

HUNDRED WISCONSIN CITIES EXPECTED TO BE HOME STATIONS OF NATIONAL GUARD UNITS

(Special to The Post-Crescent) Madison.—There are now regularly enlisted in the Wisconsin National Guard 3,751 men, divided: Infantry, 2,521; artillery, 537; cavalry, 609 (including the trains of the cavalry division); engineers 50; signal troops, 34. At any time there can be organized the regimental sanitary detachment, field hospitals and sanitary detachments which will increase the total about 300.

It is expected that the above number will be greatly increased during the week of February 8 to 14 when the drive will be made throughout the state for recruits. Ripon is being held out as an example to the state with 60 service men on the rolls and twenty men on the waiting list. The present strength allowed for infantry is 100 with 10 per cent leeway, a company being mustered with any number from 90 to 110. The Ripon company has the latter number on the rolls with twenty more waiting.

It is expected that when the guard is completed at least 100 places in Wisconsin will have units in it, varying from a battalion of infantry, a squadron of cavalry, a battalion of artillery, part of the signal battalion, field hospital and ambulance company in Milwaukee to an infantry platoon and a company in the trains in the smaller places. Many places have only 70, the latter the cavalry squadron to be later converted into machine gun companies. The machine gun companies to be assigned to regiments of infantry will have only 53 men, while the one assigned to the cavalry regiment will have 70.

While the old guard had only three machine guns (one to each regiment), the new guard will have 23 companies. Sixteen of these companies will have only 70, the latter the cavalry squadron to be later converted into machine gun companies. The machine gun companies to be assigned to regiments of infantry will have only 53 men, while the one assigned to the cavalry regiment will have 70.

A Woman's Weakness HOW SAVED FROM SUFFERING

Kalamazoo, Mich.—"I always found Dr. Pierce's medicines to be good. Sometime ago I was sick. I was laid up about three months with a very bad case of feminine weakness and I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets and I was well as ever. It was a wonderful medicine it saved me lots of suffering and doctor bills, too. I hope my testimony will be the cause of others who are suffering with feminine complaint to try this medicine. It will surely cure them."—Mrs. JULIA HICKOX, 132 Lincoln Ave.

Weakness and Bad-Blood

Waukegan, Wis.—"I have taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and received great benefit from its use. About 18 years ago I was ill with weakness and my blood was in bad condition as well. Doctors' medicine did not seem to give me the relief I thought I should have, and I cured me in a short space of time. I do certainly recommend it as being good."—Mrs. MINNIE STENSLOFF, 739 Pleasant St.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a non-alcoholic remedy that any ailing woman can safely take because it is prepared from roots and herbs containing tonic properties of the most pronounced character.

Send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial packages of any of his medicines.

MT. OLIVE PEOPLE WILL BUILD A NEW CHURCH IN SPRING

WORK ON THE NEW EDIFICE WILL BE STARTED SOON AS POSSIBLE — CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

The fifth anniversary of the founding of Mount Olive Evangelical Lutheran church was made memorable yesterday by the announcement that the congregation will soon have a new church home.

The vote of the congregation provides that the church council proceed at once with the preliminary arrangements for the construction of a brick edifice at the corner of Franklin and Oneida streets, the approximate cost to be about $35,000 or $40,000. John Hegner has been awarded the contract and it is expected that ground will be broken in March or April. At present services are being held at Bushey business college.

The Rev. R. E. Ziesemer, pastor of the church, announced that the new building will be of modern design and arrangement.

The jubilee service opened with the morning service at 10:30 o'clock and a special sermon by the pastor which exhorted the members to continue to abide in the faith of Christ in order that the success of the past years may be their future reward as well. A luncheon was served at noon by the ladies of the church, and the business session at which the building plans were completed, followed. A program of musical numbers and impromptu speeches by members of the Young People's society concluded the day's schedule of events.

A Blind Guide.

Many books have been filled with accounts of the achievements of the blind. Take for a specimen the story of James Wilson, the poor blind boy who became so familiar with the streets of Belfast that he often served as a guide to bewildered strangers. He became a traveling peddler, and was led through many perils in prosecuting his dangerous occupation. At one time a sudden call halted him on the very brink of an open well eighty feet deep. He employed persons to read to him, and his eager memory was so retentive that he became known as "the Walking Encyclopedia." Once in a company he was asked to repeat the names of as many ships of the British navy as he could. He gave names without hesitation till 620 were written down, when he was told to stop. This poor blind boy became a well-known writer.

Hard to Digest.

Binks—"The under crust to that chicken pie you brought me was abominably tough." Waiter—"There wasn't any under crust to that pie, sir; it was served on a paper plate and you've eaten it."

Climate and Consumption.

In a treatise on the relationship of air to tuberculosis, issued by the Smithsonian institution, Dr. Guy Hinsdale says, there is no specific climate for tuberculosis. The important things are, pure air and sunshine. A climate in which the humidity varies greatly is to be avoided. The best combination is one of low humidity and moderately cool temperature.

Wearing Quality of Paint.

The wearing quality of a paint, and its protecting power, are due more to the pigment than to the oil. With a pigment ground in oil, the finer the pigment, the longer it will wear; but it will dry more slowly. A layer of paint is about three times as thick as a layer of linseed oil; hence, for his and other reasons, a paint affords better protection than oil.

Largest Users of the Cable.

Who are the biggest cable? Probably Lloyd's Shipping agency, for they have sleepless agents in every corner of the world keenly watching for shipping arrivals, departures, wrecks, casualties, etc., which they instantly notify by cable to London.

Place Names in England.

England can boast that no other country possesses so many Scriptural place names as it does. The name of Jericho occurs six times on the Ordnance maps. Paradise five times and Ninereh, Mount Zion, Mount Ararat and Mount Ephraim three times each. In Bedfordshire there is a Calvary wood and in Dorsetshire a Jordan hill.

Obedience.

Whoso cannot obey cannot be free. — Carlyle.

GEORGE IS STILL UNABLE TO FIND THE JOKE IN THIS

The "plus war tax" sign no longer carries an appeal to George Bellevue, 407 State street. George lost his taste for it Saturday afternoon.

Being the host at a successful informal dancing party at Elks' hall Friday night was alright, but the receipt of orders from police headquarters by telephone Saturday afternoon to make payment of war tax collected was not. The chief was calling.

But George did it. He went, though his attitude was not one of assurance as he made his way to the station. His trousers found a solitary patrolman at the desk. The matter was not broached in the ensuing conversation, and each passing minute increased George's wonderment. Nearly an hour went by.

At last George gently inquired regarding the whereabouts of Chief Prim.

"Chief's been home, sick all day," said the patrolman. George is still tracing the call.

MARQUETTE DEFEATS THE NOTRE DAME BASKETEERS

South Bend, Ind.—In one of the most spectacular contests ever seen on the local floor, the speedy Marquette university basketball team displaying the wonderful comeback ability in the second half, defeated the Notre Dame quintet by a score of 23 to 22.

The first half ended with Marquette holding the short end of an 18 to 11 count. The Blue and Gold eagles, after a fight instilling talk by Coach Ryan, came back strong in the final period.

The teamwork displayed in the second half was that to be compared with some of the best teams in the country. The Milwaukee boys simply had the Hoosiers outclassed and bewildered in the passing game.

Mehr and Kiley were easily the stars for Notre Dame, while Karst, Capt. O'Malley and Cronin worked well for Marquette. The shooting of Karst was without a doubt the feature of the game. He brought the crowd to its feet time and again with his spectacular mid-air victory of the season.

This was Marquette's fifth victory of the season.

Herman J. Kambs, county clerk, has returned from Antigo, where he was called Saturday by the critical illness of James Bradley.

Miss Lena Kitzinger, who was taken ill with grip while away from home, was removed to her home at 1155 Harris street, Saturday, where she is resting comfortably today.
